The Australian Institute of International Affairs (AIIA) is an independent organisation which promotes the objective study of international affairs. It has no political biases and hears all views. Founded in 1925, it was established as a federal organisation in 1933. The Institute has its national headquarters at Stephen House in Canberra, and branches in all states and territories. Like its sister Institutes in New Zealand, Canada, South Africa and India, it is affiliated with the Royal Institute of International Affairs, Chatham House, London.

The AIIA provides a forum for discussion and research on subjects of topical and continuing interest through meetings, conferences and seminars addressed by distinguished specialists and public figures. Over the years these meetings have contributed much to informing public opinion on international affairs and have assisted the development of the Australian Diplomatic Service and the study of international issues in Australia.

The AIIA Victoria (AIIAV) is housed in Dyason House, named after E.C. Dyason, a prominent past member and one of its most generous benefactors.

Membership is open to any individuals who are Australian residents, to corporate bodies, to diplomatic representatives, schools and students.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

I have pleasure in presenting my first report as President of the AIIAV.

We are a membership based, apolitical volunteer organisation. Thus my first task is to thank all those who have given their time and service to this organisation over the past year. In particular I would like to thank Laurence Wade, our immediate past President. I would like to thank the invaluable work carried out by all Committees of the AIIA. Putting it bluntly, we have had a terrific year. The number of events we have done is at record levels, the quality of speakers has been fantastic and the involvement of the Members has been absolutely wonderful. So my thanks go to all the Volunteers, Interns and indeed all the Members who have participated in various events throughout the year.

Additionally, I would like to thank our past Vice Presidents Cate Pickett and Gary Neat, and past Treasurer Peter McMullin, who all stepped down from their Officeholder positions at the 2014 AGM, for their generous commitment and time as part of the Executive team. A very warm thank you also to Council member Lisa Pititto who stepped down in June due to other commitments.

I would also like to thank colleagues on the Executive and Council, in particular Vice Presidents Breck Hilton and Sean Jesudason, and Treasurer Greg Romanes, who stepped into the position after the newly elected Treasurer Richard Green had to retire early due to health reasons.

Subsequent to the 2014 AGM, we welcomed additional new Council members John ML Woods and Alastair Roff.

In accordance with the Constitution, Michael Helman and Ian Howie are retiring from the Council at the 2015 AGM having completed two consecutive three year terms. I thank them too for their terrific contribution.

Executive Committee

I disbanded the Executive Committee; preferring to take all matters to Council and from time to time, bringing together particular Council Members to progress particular issues. Although an Executive Committee can at times be useful; it can end up being the de facto manager of a business; thus exorcising the Council from many decisions.

Highlights of the Year

It is always difficult to pick out highlights but I cannot resist in doing so. The Sir Zelman Cowen Oration, organised by Committee Chair and Vice President Gary Neat, was delivered by Peter Varghese, Secretary of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade.

We had over 200 participants at the International Careers Conference which was more than ably managed by John Allen. A great stalwart was Cate Pickett with all her helpers during the course of the year provided the most exciting and informative Speakers to us.

Reaching Out to Other Organisations

Another important initiative has been our involvement with Deakin, Latrobe and Monash Universities where we have sought and achieved a close co-operation led by John Woods and David Harper. And we are looking for more developments in this area where we link up with other organisations with like-minded objectives.

Young Professionals Forum (YPF)

The Young Professionals Forum has had a more than successful year driven by Council members Sean Jesudason, Eileen McInnes, Matthew Di Leo and Sinead Ferris with the team of Will McEniry, Nicholas Morieson, Marlene Millott, Rachel Kaye, Jonathon Hasuler, Kate Hilgendorf, Alexander Scott, Warren Evans, Hayden Meney, Arthur Moore, Malvina Predecki, Kelly MacDonald and Arthur Darras.

The YPF team at the offices of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade for the Networking Evening.

The Forum presented six events over the period looking at

- the return to great power politics,
- the wider implications of the Australian Government's new anti-terror laws between security and liberty,
- economic diplomacy in action with Austrade's Senior Trade Commissioner in Seoul, Mr Brett Cooper,
- the annual Trivia Night, and
- a special Networking Evening hosted at the offices of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade Victoria;
- and the extent of the slave trade.

The Forum actively manages the Institute's social media sites and assists with the International Careers Conference.

Young Professionals Forum Trivia Night teams compete for the title of International Trivia Champions.

Membership

I am delighted to say that our number of active Members we have has increased from 477 at the end of June 2014 to 538 at the end of June 2015. Thank you for your support and interest in the AIIA. Perhaps one of the most important ways of encouraging new Members is through word of mouth and you, the Membership base, are the best people to promote the AIIA. You obviously did a good job of doing so over the past year!

Study Tours

Following on from Study Tours in China and Myanmar, Peter McMullen lead a Study Tour to East Timor late last year, travelling from 24 October to 4 November, 2014. Peter has visited Timor-Leste regularly since 2002, during which time he has mentored the establishment of Timor-Leste's first Chamber of Commerce, and has acted as adviser to the Foreign Minister of Timor-Leste. The small group visited Baucau, Tutuala/Jaco Island, Maubisse, Balibo, Ataour and Dilli. There were briefings with representatives from government and a range of not-for-profit organisations along with activities which provided insights into the culture, economy and political history of the country. Some highlights included briefings from representatives from the World Bank, the Chamber of Commerce and the Australian Army; and visits to community co-operatives, a coffee farm and to the War Memorial in Balibo. The planned briefing from the Foreign Minister was unfortunately cancelled due to an unexpected issue arising on the day.

We had planned a Study Tour to Japan for 2015. This did not eventuate because of the lack of numbers. I have learned a couple of lessons from this:

- people need a good lead time to be able to commit themselves to a Study Tour,
- we need to have Study Tour leaders who will attract participants, and
- it is desirable for us to be invited to another country by our counterparts in other countries.

Following a number of suggestions from various Members, for which thanks, we are planning Study Tours in the next couple of years to Iran, South America, Norway, Japan, Turkey and maybe UAE. If you have any suggestions as to destinations for Study Tours please do let me know.

Volunteers and Interns

The number of Volunteers and Interns we do have, to an extent, gives us a pleasing headache as they have to be managed, coached and they have to be integral to our business. Peta McDermott has done a sterling job in ensuring that we not only provide interns with an experience but also that they benefit our organisation.

Internships awarded during the year included for the Programme, Arthur Moore and Marcus Hickleton; for the International Careers Conference Sophie Westland, Tom McQuillan, Brigid O'Farrell and Marleen Honig; for Special Events Nathaniel Imam; and for Marketing Lachy Lamour and Eliah Castiello.

Euan Crone Asian Awareness Scholarship

The Euan Crone Asian Awareness Scholarship last year provided scholarships to Victorian members Marlene Millot and Samantha Tasic. Marlene had been accepted to study at the Australian Consortium for In-Country Indonesian Studies Journalism Professional practicum in Jakarta. Samantha had undertaken an unpaid United Nations internship at the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, where key members of the Khmer Rouge will be brought to trial.

VCE Seminar Programme

During the year we had one only VCE Seminar Programme due to a number of factors including timing, ability to attract schools and others to help us organise the event. The seminar was on "Ethical Issues and Debates". Professor Richard Tanter spoke on arms control and disarmament, and Mr David Wallace from the International Office for Migration spoke about people movement.

Vale

A former president, the Hon. Michael MacKellar AM, died on 6 May 2015. Michael served on Council for many years and was President from 2008 until 2011. He steered the Institute with skill and tact during some difficult times, particularly arising from the onset of the global financial crisis. He will be sadly missed by his many friends at the Institute.

Benefactors

We are most indebted to our many donors. During the past Financial Year they donated $10,015.

In addition to that, we are indebted to The Walter Mangold Trust Fund for their continued support of our Interns, Volunteers and younger Members. In particular, this has enabled them to participate in functions such as the Sir Zelman Cowan Oration. The Sir Wilfred Brookes Charitable Foundation has also been terrific in promoting the AIIA. I thank all who have contributed to the financial well-being of the AIIA.

Interns, volunteers and Young Professionals Forum team members with Mr Peter Varghese at the Sir Zelman Cowan Oration, their attendance made possible by the generosity of The Walter Mangold Trust Fund.

AIIA Fellows

I would like to congratulate Rev Tim Costello AO and Ms Jenny McGregor as Victorian appointees to the AIIA Fellow programme. This programme was created to recognise exceptional contributions to Australia's international relations.

I encourage you to read the reports by the Treasurer, on the International Careers Conference and Cate Pickett's report on events held during the year.

I look forward to an eventful year ahead; and to your participation in it.

Patrick Moore

President

The Programme

Thank you to all those members who have attended our Events Programme this year. Your presence and interest ensures that the work that goes into preparing the Programme is worthwhile.

There were over 35 events during the year directly related to the Programme. There has been a specific focus on the Middle East in keeping with the topical nature of ISIS activities. We also had a couple of different topics this year – “Sport as a unifying force” (Mr Michael Brown, CEO of the Asian Cup) and “Ebola: What have we learnt and where are we going?” (Professor Cameron Simmons, Nossal Institute of Global Health).

Associate Professor Sally Totman Marshall, Deakin University with AIIAV Vice President Gary Neat.

We continue to work with the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade and appreciate the valuable information they provide about both visiting dignitaries and possible events that might be of interest.

Mr Yusuf Abramjee, Head of News & Current Affairs, Primedia, and Head of Lead SA, held at the offices of the Department of Foreign Affairs & Trade.

We also held several partnership events this year and will be looking to continue these, providing access to different events for our members.

Our two interns on the Committee, Arthur Moore (July – December) and Marcus Hickleton (Jan – Jun), have done a great job and each has added their own expertise to the support of the committee.

Congratulations to all involved in bringing such interesting and diverse events to our Membership.

The Rt Hon Malcolm Fraser AC Ch GCL, former Prime Minister of Australia.

The list of speakers follows on page 11.

International Careers Conference 2014

The tenth International Careers Conference (ICC) was held on Friday 29th August at the University of Melbourne. We were extremely grateful for the conference sponsorship by Haileybury and venue support by the University of Melbourne.

The purpose of the ICC is to provide students with insights into the varied options available to those considering embarking on an international career and the implications of working internationally.

Keynote speakers were Derek Scott, the Principal of Haileybury who spoke about the increasing internationalisation of secondary school studies, particularly as regards Australia’s relationships in Asia; John Richardson, former Ambassador in a number of countries and now the Director of the Victorian State Office of the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, who spoke entertainingly and insightfully about DFAT careers; and Erika Feller, who spoke compellingly about her career in UN Agencies, notably as UN Human Commissioner for Refugees.

There were also three panel discussions. The first, chaired by Leonard Vary of the Myer Foundation, featured Tim Costello AO of World Vision, Dimity Fifer of Australian Volunteers International and Paul Ronalds of Save the Children, discussing international careers in the NGO sector. This was followed by the Business Panel, chaired by Bronte Adams of Dandolo Partners discussing international careers in business with Peter Nash of KPMG, Jonathan Harvey of the ANZ Banking Group and Larry Kamener of BCG Consulting. The afternoon panel, featuring Marion van Rooden of the Victorian Department of State Development, Business and Innovation, Karen Halbert of Tourism Australia and Peter Vados from the Department of Immigration was chaired by Ian Howie of RMIT, discussing international career opportunities in Commonwealth and Victorian government organisations. In all these sessions there were informative Question and Answer exchanges between speakers and the more than 200 final year undergraduate and post-graduate students who attended the conference.

Participants at the ICC 2014.

Our thanks go to Committee Chair John Allen, and the AIIAV team ably led by Sophie Westland, working closely with the Executive Officer Peta McDermott, for their hard work towards making the 2014 ICC such a successful day for those seeking information on international careers.

The Financial Situation

The Institute recorded a profit of $8,390 for the year ended 30 June 2015 compared with $5,077 in the previous year. During 2015, apart from a better return from functions held and increased income due to a study tour being held, most other activities produced revenue and expenses similar to those in the 2014 year.

Expenses associated with maintaining our property in East Melbourne rose quite significantly last financial year and since balance date we have invested further in essential property maintenance (fire stairs, boiler repairs). We anticipate that we will need to expect this substantial investment in property maintenance to continue.

There was also a reduction in employment expenses over the reporting period, which were associated with the engagement of a Development Manager in early 2014. This appointment provided a poor return on investment and was discontinued.
